Date of decision: 04/10/2004

ORAL JUDGEMENT

The detenu has been detained under the provisions of Gujarat Prevention of Anti-Social Activities Act, 1985 (hereinafter referred to as `the Act of 1985') by the order dated 21-4-2004 passed by the Police Commissioner, Surat City and she has been declared as bootlegger.

2. It is now well settled that unless the activities of a person as bootlegger has disturbed the maintenance of public order, she cannot be detained under the Act. Reliance is placed on a decision of the case of Piyush Kantilal Mehta Vs. Commissioner of Police, Ahmedabad & Ors. reported in AIR 1989 SC 491.

3. It is submitted by the learned counsel for the petitioner that the petitioner has been branded as bootlegger based nine prohibition cases registered and impugned order of detention was passed on 21-4-2004. The argument was mainly concentrated towards the delay caused in deciding the representation and communicating the decision to the detenu. It is submitted that the petitioner has sent a written representation to the Home Minister on 28-4-2004. However, said representation was rejected on 4-5-2004 and communicated to the detenu on 10-5-2004 and hence, there is a delay in forwarding and deciding the representation and communicating the decision of the representation. Said fact is not disputed by the otherside. In this connection, learned counsel for the petitioner has relied upon the case of Harish Pahwa Vs. State of U.P. and others, AIR 1981 S.C. 1126, more particularly para 3 which runs as under:

> "The representation made by a detenu has to be considered without any delay. The Supreme Court does not look at equanimity upon delays when the liberty of a person is concerned. Calling comments from other departments, seeking the opinion of Secretary after Secretary and allowing the representation to lie without being attended to is not the type of action which the State is expected to take in a matter of such vital importance. It is the duty of the State to proceed to determine representations with the utmost expedition, which means that the matter must be taken up for consideration as soon as such a representation is received and dealt with continuously (unless it is absolutely necessary to wait for some assistance in connection with it) until a final decision is taken and communicated to the detenu. Where this is not done the detention has to be declared unconstitutional."

4. In the present case, it appears that the representation dated 28-4-2004 addressed to the Home Minister was rejected by the State Government on 4-5-2004 and communicated to the detenu on 10-5-2004. Hence, there is a delay in forwarding and deciding the representation and communicating the decision to the detenu. However, no satisfactory explanation has been putforward by the authorities for the delay caused in deciding the representation and communicating the decision to the detenu. Hence, in view of the aforesaid judgment relied upon by the learned advocate for the petitioner, the order of detention is illegal and the same cannot be sustained. Since the petitioner succeeds only on this ground, learned counsel for the petitioner did not press other points.

5. The petition is allowed. The impugned order of detention dated 21-4-2004 passed against the detenu Meenaben, D/o Fakirbhai Kalyanbhai Patel, is hereby quashed and set aside. The detenu is ordered to be set at liberty forthwith, if not required in any other case. Rule is made absolute accordingly. Direct service is permitted.
